These include a requirement for 256 MB RAM for use, a maximum file size for RAW files of 16 MB, and a max resolution of 5,760 x 4,320 pixels for files in the JPEG and TIFF formats. Elements 11/12 has the ability to use the same full sized file resolutions as Photoshop. It does not support high resolution Digital Negative (DNG) files from cameras with a resolution of 5,120 x 3,840 or larger. Please note that you should be aware that Elements 12 is subject to software updates. While an update might not break your software, the ability to work with the latest files changes constantly and you will likely need to update the software at some point in time. To work around some of the restrictions you might need to use Photoshop CC instead of Elements 12. This article will show you how to start working with this version of Photoshop.
