Yu-Gi-Oh! Power Of Chaos: Joey the Passion, a really nice strategy game sold in 2004 for Windows, is available and ready to be played again! Time to play anÅ .Saturday, May 11, 2011 I caught up with J.Cramps to give us an in-depth interview regarding how he came up in the scene, his work and what he is working on right now, plus of course get some insight from him on his music and a little bit about his surroundings and aspirations. 1. Why did you come up in the scene? What inspired your passion for Art? I grew up in the scene and around it, but I didn't come up as an artist. Art is something I've always enjoyed doing. I don't remember a time in my life when I wasn't drawing or painting. 2. You have been known for your fast hands. How long have you been fast to the point of being able to do 540+ manuals out of the box? I've been playing guitar for a long time, but I don't even remember when I started trying to pull that off. I just started doing it and kept at it. I'm not sure if I was ever that fast in the first place, but it's become something that I enjoy doing now. 3. Did you have any problems getting into the scene as a younger kid? Any relationships with other kids in the scene who inspired you at the time? When I came up in the scene in the early 2000's, I found it easy getting into the scene. I would play shows with friends or hang out at their houses with them. I spent a lot of time with older kids that were moving around and had known each other their whole lives. Since then the scene has been smaller, but has enough vibes for me to stay connected with a small group of people. 4. Moving on to a more personal note, what are your aspirations for yourself in the scene, in life, etc? As for me, I enjoy spending time with my friends and doing a lot of dumb shit together. I would like to buy a house and get married. I would also like to record an album. 5. Now that you are a seasoned veteran in the scene, do you have any advice for up and coming artists? I think the advice that I would give up and coming artists is to know that whatever you do, you don't
