Clinical and radiologic analysis of a cervical meningioma: a case report. A 34-year-old man with a previous history of cervical laminectomy with spinal fusion for ossification of ligamentum flavum 7 years previously underwent magnetic resonance (MR) imaging of the cervical spine to evaluate low back pain and upper right limb discomfort which occurred. MR imaging demonstrated an abnormal mass in the right C5 nerve root canal, which was well enhanced with contrast media. The C5 nerve root was thickened and kinked. The MR appearance of this mass was similar to that of a meningioma. The patient was then surgically treated. A well encapsulated tumour with a reddish surface was resected from the right C5 nerve root with a neural retraction sheath. The histological diagnosis was a meningioma. During surgery, a right C5 nerve root adhesion to the base of the tumour was noted. His postoperative course was uneventful. The present case is the first report of a meningioma located in the right nerve root canal./* * Copyright (C) 2007 The Android Open Source Project * * Licensed under the Apache License, Version 2.0 (the "License"); * you may not use this file except in compliance with the License. * You may obtain a copy of the License at * * * * Unless required by applicable law or agreed to in writing, software * distributed under the License is distributed on an "AS IS" BASIS, * WITHOUT WARRANTIES OR CONDITIONS OF ANY KIND, either express or implied. * See the License for the specific language governing permissions and * limitations under the License. */ package com.android.dx.dex.file; import com.android.dx.dex.code.DalvCode; import com.android.dx.rop.cst.Constant; import com.android.dx.rop.cst.CstType; import com.android.dx.rop.type.Type;

Terrigal Terrigal (; ) is a town in the Northern Beaches Region, New South Wales, Australia. Terrigal lies on the north-western side of the Hawkesbury River, east of the Sydney central business district, at the point where the road between Sydney and the Hawkesbury River becomes the Pacific Highway. History The area was originally inhabited by the indigenous Bigun people who lived between Sydney and Burragorang. The early Europeans who came through were mostly from the area of Pooncarie and the adjacent Thomas Farm (where part of the film The Man from Snowy River was shot). Terrigal was established in 1885 and initially grew as a supply centre for the timber and coal industries along the river, and later as a centre for the sugar cane industry. The population of the town grew to the point that on 9 June 1909 it became a municipality. It became a borough in June 1997. Terrigal is home to a small theatre, the Cremorne. It stages regular theatrical and musical productions, from productions with a strong local connection, to touring productions. Local landmarks The annual Southern Blue Gum Festival begins on Boxing Day and continues for a week. The Best of Show is held at Millers Bay Beach. The current Dairy Factory is considered to be one of the oldest buildings in the suburb. It was built in 1897 as a cheese factory. In 1915 it became a vegetable oil mill. In 1970 it was transformed into a chicken farm. Since 2001 it has again been in use as a cheese factory. Many of the older houses were built from bricks obtained from the brickworks near what is now the Sporting Complex at Oran Park. It is named after the family who owned the brickworks in the late 19th and early 20th centuries. The Terrigal Arms Hotel The Terrigal Arms Hotel is a historic pub in Terrigal, New South Wales. It was built in 1879 as a small hotel. Later a ballroom, parlour and bar were added. 6d1f23a050
